ABSTRACT

A minimal amount of waste in liquid resist material is achieved by dispensing through small openings at close proximity to the substrate. An airtight substrate chamber as well as airtight sealing of dispensing assembly and airtight sealing of the space that does not have to be opened for substrate loading and unloading, are used to facilitate a uniform and planarized coating after a high-speed spin off of excess resist.